

WINGS IN AIR BATTLE

By United Press International

Israel said its pilots shot down three Egyptian MIG21s in a "quick and short" dogfight over the Suez Canal today and then continued with their 51st consecutive day of attacks against Egyptian canal positions. Egypt said its planes hit two of the Israeli aircraft.

A Cairo announcement said a total of 24 Israeli and Egyptian planes were involved in the air battle in the Qantara region over the northern sector of the waterway, that two Israeli planes were hit and that all Egyptian planes returned safely.

Cairo said earlier 56 Israeli aircraft raided Egyptian positions in the canal area, an unusually heavy raid.

Today's was the first dogfight since Israel reported that the Soviet Union and Egypt had set up an array of SAM3 and SAM2 missile sites barely 15 miles from the Suez Canal and that Russians were manning the SAM3 missiles against Israel.

Israel also has charged that Russian pilots were flying in the Canal area and possibly over Israeli territory but today's announcements made no mention of Russians.

Israeli planes also raided Jordan after Soviet-built Katyusha rockets landed in the Beisan area of the upper Jordan Valley.

The rockets inflicted neither casualties nor damage, an Israeli spokesman said, but Israel retaliated by hitting the military command of Jordanian army units "which assist terrorist activity and make possible such activity against civilian settlements in the Beisan region."

R. E. Olds, Former Fullerton Industrialist, Dies at 70

WHITTIER — Reginald B. Olds, 70, consul to Estonia and former president of F. E. Olds and Son Band Instruments Co. of Fullerton, died Thursday in Whittier, where he had resided for 17 years.

Mr. Olds was appointed vice consul of Estonia during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and held that post until two years ago when he was named consul to this constituent republic of the Soviet Union.

Estonia was an independent country before it was seized by Russia in 1940 and made one of the states of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. Many countries, including the United States, refused to recognize the Russian seizure of Estonia. Such countries recognize Estonian diplomats and consuls who still function in many countries in the name of the former government.

The appointments, under his situation, were honorary and he had never visited Estonia.

Mr. Olds was a veteran of World War I and attended University of Southern California. He was a member of Hacienda Heights Country Club and a past Clyde Reynolds, 1591 Brea Boulevard, offered the city his two-acre parcel for $100,000. He said his land, bordered by Brea Boulevard, Marion Drive and Elks Drive, is in the geographical center of town.

Reynolds also said constructing the library on his land would fulfill the civic continuing throughout the afternoon.

president of the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

Surviving are his widow, Marian; one daughter, Mrs. Paul Cordary of Corona del Mar; and two grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held Monday with burial at Rosedale Cemetery, Los Angeles. White-Emerson Mortuary of Whittier is in charge of arrangements.

The family requests that any memorials be expressed in the form of donations to a favorite charity.

Mr. Olds was born Sept. 11, 1899, in Los Angeles, and had resided in the Southland all his life, coming to Whittier from Los Angeles.

His father, the late F. E. Olds, founded the Fullerton company in 1912. Mr. Olds succeeded him as president heading the company until his retirement five years ago.

"We have special servicemen in uniform who make regular tours through the cars to keep order. The kids exhibit model behavior while the serviceman is going through, but the minute he's gone, they turn into a bunch of little devils," he said. "It's amazing."

There is a certain amount of destruction, too, he said, because of the roughhousing of these kids. "And they're hard

Adams said it all depends on who is making out the report. "If the special serviceman happens to be the father of teen-agers, the report reads, 'Youthful exuberance,' but if it's someone who doesn't happen to know kids of that age, then they are called 'little illegitimates,'" he said, chuckling.

Asked if he thought drugs were involved, he said, "I really don't think so. These kids are the athletic type, inter-
